Statutes

Fed. R. Civ. P., Rule 25 .....	1, 2

EpicRealm Licensing, LP (“epicRealm”) and Parallel Networks, LLC (“Parallel Networks”), as the new real party in interest, hereby oppose Plaintiff QuinStreet, Inc.’s (“QuinStreet’s”) Revised Motion for Leave to File Amended Complaint for Declaratory Judgment (“motion for leave”). (D.I. 48.) QuinStreet’s proposed amended complaint names epicRealm as the defendant and counterclaimant in this action even though—as QuinStreet well knows—epicRealm assigned to Parallel Networks all right, title and interest in the two patents in suit,<sup>1</sup> including the right to enforce the patents in suit and to recover for past infringement. Moreover, effective October 31, 2007, epicRealm was dissolved by the state of Delaware and ceased to exist as a legal entity. Consequently, because epicRealm no longer has any interest in the patents in suit and no longer exists as a legal entity, QuinStreet’s motion for leave should be denied.

Parallel Networks is attempting to work with QuinStreet to reach an agreement to substitute Parallel Networks for epicRealm in the action. In the event no agreement is reached, Parallel Networks will file a motion under Rule 25(c), Fed. R. Civ. P., to substitute Parallel Networks as the appropriate defendant and counterclaimant in the action.

I. Nature and State of the Proceedings

This action for declaratory judgment was filed on August 8, 2006. At the status conference on September 20, 2007, epicRealm informed the Court that all right, title and interest in the patents in suit had been transferred to Parallel Networks as a new entity. That transfer occurred in August of 2007. EpicRealm further stated that it would work with Oracle and QuinStreet to reach an agreement to substitute Parallel Networks for epicRealm as the real party in interest in the two actions.

At the October 29, 2007 status hearing, Oracle and epicRealm reported to the Court that the parties had reached an agreement to dismiss epicRealm from the action without prejudice and to substitute Parallel Networks for epicRealm as the real party in interest. Parallel Networks and Oracle are working on the appropriate filings to effect the substitution. As of the filing of this answering brief, QuinStreet has not agreed to the substitution, nor has QuinStreet provided any valid basis for withholding its agreement to substitute. Accordingly in this action, in the event no agreement is reached with QuinStreet, epicRealm will file a motion under Rule 25(c), Fed. R. Civ. P., to substitute Parallel Networks for epicRealm as the real party in interest.

II. Summary of the Argument

1. There is no dispute that all right, title and interest in the patents in suit has been transferred from epicRealm as the presently named defendant and counterclaimant to Parallel Networks, including the right to enforce the patents and recover for past infringement. See Exhibits A, B and C hereto. As a consequence, Parallel Networks should be substituted for epicRealm as the real party in interest. Because QuinStreet's proposed amended complaint continues to improperly include epicRealm as a defendant and counterclaimant, its motion for leave to file its improperly amended complaint should be denied.

III. Statement of Facts

In support of its opposition, epicRealm and Parallel Networks, as the real party in interest, state as follows:

1. The two patents in suit are directed to, among other things, systems and methods for managing dynamic web page generation requests. QuinStreet initiated this action against epicRealm by filing its original complaint for declaratory judgment seeking a declaration of noninfringement for all of its software products used in conjunction with the delivery of dynamic web pages. (D.I. 1.) In August 2007, epicRealm transferred all right, title and interest in the patents in suit to Parallel Networks,<sup>2</sup> including the right to enforce those patents and the right to recover for past infringement. See Exhibits A and B. A copy of the assignment of all right, title and interest in the patents in suit to Parallel Networks has been filed with the United States Patent and Trademark Office and is attached to this opposition brief as Exhibit A. As seen in Exhibit A, epicRealm now has no right, title or interest in the patents in suit. In further support is the affidavit of Terry Fokas establishing without question that all interest in the patents in suit has been transferred to Parallel Networks. (Exhibit B.) Furthermore, on October 31, 2007, epicRealm was dissolved. A file-stamped copy of the certificates of dissolution for epicRealm as the presently named defendant and counterclaimant (and its general partner, epicRealm Licensing, LLC) is attached to this answering brief as Exhibit C. See also, Exhibit B.

2. Plainly, the actual controversy now between the parties as raised by QuinStreet's action is between Parallel Networks and QuinStreet, not between epicRealm and QuinStreet.

IV. Argument

In an action for patent infringement, when the patents involved in the action are assigned by the patent owner to a third party, substituting the third party for the original party pursuant to Rule 25(c) is the appropriate procedure for bringing that third party into the litigation. See Affinion Loyalty Group, Inc. v. Maritz, Inc., 2006 WL 1431065, at *2 (D. Del. May 22, 2006); see also Gen. Battery Corp. v. Globe-Union, Inc., 100 F.R.D. 258, 262-263 (D. Del. 1982). Thus, because all right, title and interest in the two patents in suit, including the right to sue for any rights previously held by epicRealm, is now held by Parallel Networks, QuinStreet's proposed motion for leave should be denied because Parallel Networks—not epicRealm—is the only proper defendant and counterclaimant. Consequently, QuinStreet's present motion for leave should be denied.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, this Court should deny QuinStreet's motion for leave to file an amended complaint.

Respectfully submitted,
